Preface

THE preservation of ancestral records is desirable that we may rescue from oblivion those hitherto unrecorded events that will keep alive in their descendants a love and veneration for their memories, and imbue their sons with a spirit of patriotism.

To our forefathers we owe the blessings and comforts of this latter day, and it is but natural that we should feel a strong desire to become more intimately acquainted with their sturdy virtues, their character, and their history.

This work is not given to my co-descendants from any feeling of vanity or family pride, but is a simple record of events such as any individual member of a family would make in his Bible.

I have endeavored to be authentic and to weld a chain of events from the earliest mention of our first ancestor to the present time.

Sources of information have been State and County records, old deeds, crumbling gravestones, a genealogical chart prepared for Mr. H. B. Rust of Pittsburgh, by Mr. Charles Cochrane who is a professional genealogist, and the voluntary contributions of the various members of the family.

To my nephew, M. Leonard Glover, I make grateful acknowledgment for his assistance in the publishing of this volume.

The Rust Line

A Resumé

THE earliest records of the Rust family in England are in the Hundred Rolls, where the name Peter Rust appears in 1273. Also, in Norfolk County is found the name Hugh Rust in 1312, Thomas and Robert Rust in 1379, and Peter Rust again in 1655. Dr. George Rust was a learned English prelate connected with Cambridge University in 1650, and was Bishop of Dronmore, Ireland, in 1667. Archdeacon Bonney said of him: "A person of whom no commendation could be extravagant."

Rev. Edgar Rust, rector of Drinkstan, Suffolk, England, was great-grandson of John Rust, of Stowemarket, where Rev. Edgar Rust had his seat, Abbot's Hall. It is believed by the outline of the Rust record that this family had the same origin as the Norfolk family of the name, and quite probable that William of Westmoreland was descended from this Norfolk family.

"The coat of arms of the Rust family bears a Crusader's cross, indicating that knighthood was bestowed as a reward for services in the Crusades.

"William Rust settled in Westmoreland County, Virginia, about 1650. He left England because of his being a Royalist, and opposed to Oliver Cromwell."

Virginia Magazine of History and Biography,
Vol. VI, p. 164.

All of the Southern Rusts are descended from this pioneer, William Rust, a renowned hunter and Indian fighter, who is thought to have come from Northumberland to Westmoreland County, but some authorities state that he came direct from England.

Carpenter and Allied Families, p. 199.
Cyclopaedia of Biography—Virginia,
Vol. V, p. 805.

FIRST GENERATION

William Rust

THE exact date of the birth of William Rust is not known, but it is placed at about 1625, as he was married before 1662.

The first mention of the name in Virginia is found in 1650 in the earlier annals of Cople Parish in Westmoreland County. William Rust had two brothers, Henry and John, of which little is known.

Some of the records of the activities of William Rust at that early date are given below:

1670, May 25, acknowledges deed for Mary Cole.

1673-74, February 22, deed, Nicholas Jones to William Rust.

1699, November 29, will (missing) proved, naming sons Samuel and George Rust, executors.

William Rust was married, first, to Anne Metcalfe and, second, to Matilda, the widow of Samuel Earle, Sr.

In the early records we find the following interesting data:

1662, May 17, (in Northumberland County) Anne Rust appoints her friend, Samuel Bonam, her attorney to acknowledge for her a land transfer to William Landman.

1673, October 27, deed, Samuel Earle to Anne, wife of William Rust.

1693, September 27, Samuel Earle, Sr., acknowledges conveyance of land to William Rust, Sr., and wife.

1697, November 24, William Rust married Matilda Earle (some time after this date). She married again (before July 25, 1705), John Bennett.

— The children of William Rust are all by his first wife, Anne (Metcalfe) Rust. They were:

1. John—died young.
2. William—married Margaret Bonum before 1690.
His will proved before July 28, 1697.
3. Samuel—of whom more later.
4. George—probably died without issue. Will (missing)
proved February 22, 1709.

SECOND GENERATION

Samuel Rust

SAMUEL RUST, the third son of William Rust and Anne (Metcalfe) Rust, was probably married twice, as the youngest son, Peter, is described as "one of the sons of Samuel Rust (by Martha his wife)" suggesting that there were others not by Martha. Martha's last name is not definitely known, but many authorities give it as Martha Butler. She was probably the mother of all the children born after 1700. Her will, November 3, 1726, was probated February 25, 1729.

The following will show some of the activities of Samuel Rust during that early period:

1695, June 27,—grand juror.

1701, Thomas and Eunice Thistlewheat of St. Sepulchers, London, sell a tract to Samuel Rust and John Clements.

1715, August 16, will; probated March 26, 1718, disposes of large estate in lands, etc.

The children of Samuel Rust and Martha () Rust were:

1. John—of whom more later.
2. William—married Isabella ().
3. Anne—married George Harrison before August 15, 1715.
- 4. Jeremiah—married Magdalen Damourvell (French).
5. Matthew—married (1st) Winifred Cox, after 1718.
(2nd) Frances Middleton, after 1740.
6. Benjamin—married (1st) Eleanor () about 1720.
(2nd) Sarah Metcalfe.
7. George—married (1st) Sarah Innis. (2nd) Ann ().
8. Hannah*—married George Eskridge, Jr., between 1715 and 1726.
9. Peter—married (1st) Sarah Newton before February 26, 1733. (2nd) Elizabeth Newton (younger sister of Sarah).

* "Hannah Rust was the daughter-in-law of Col. George Eskridge, a prominent lawyer and member of the House of Burgesses. Col. Eskridge was the guardian of Mary Ball, the mother of George Washington, from the time she was thirteen until she was married. (Her famous son is thought to have been named for her guardian.)

"Portraits of Col. Eskridge and one of his wives were bequeathed, in 1913 by Gen. P. C. Rust, to the Virginia Historical Society, and are now in the portrait collection of that Society."

Virginia Magazine of History and Biography. Vol. XX, pp. 307-309.

THIRD GENERATION

John Rust

JOHN RUST, the eldest son of Samuel Rust and Martha () Rust, was born before 1695. He married Agnes Clement before August 29, 1717.

The following items of interest are found in the old records:

1715, under his father's will he received a plantation at the Westmoreland-Northumberland County line.

1718-1719, March 16, patent from Lady Fairfax for 560 acres on the branch of the Great Marsh Run, then in Richmond County.

1727, April 11, will proved May 31, 1727 (brother Jeremiah Rust, Extr.) left land (760 acres or more) to his three sons; also bequeaths his pistols, holster, sword, etc.

John Rust's wife, Agnes Clement, was the daughter of Mr. John Clement, who died in 1701, and of Mrs. Jane Clement, who by 1704 was remarried to Roger Wiggington, who died 1717 or 1718.

The children of John Rust and Agnes (Clement) Rust were:

1. Samuel—married Bridget (). She later married George Harrison.
2. John—of whom more later.
3. William—married Monica ().
4. Elizabeth—married William Eskridge about 1750.

FOURTH GENERATION

John Rust

JOHN RUST, JR., the son of John Rust and Agnes (Clement) Rust, was born about 1719. He was married three times, but not a great deal is known of these wives. His first wife was Sarah (), whom he married before 1749. She died before 1762. The name of his second wife is unknown. His third wife was Elizabeth (), who was the administratrix of her husband's estate. Elizabeth Rust later married a man named Saggs.

The old records show that John Rust:

1727, inherited land with his brother, William, in King George and Stafford counties.

1731, September 29, his uncle, Benjamin Rust, of Richmond County, was appointed his guardian.

1776, died intestate, Fauquier County.

This generation falls in the Revolutionary period, and many of this family fought in the various battles.

Legends of Loudon by Harrison Williams, p. 142, contains the following interesting paragraph:

"The Powells and the Masons, the Lees, the Claphams, the Nolands, the Rusts, the Chynns, the Peyton's, and others of Virginia's natural leaders and large landowning families of the time, abetted and supported the Revolutionary cause in one capacity or another."

The children of John Rust and his first wife, Sarah, were:

1. Samuel—of whom more later.
2. Benjamin — married Hannah Phillipa Lee Bailey.
He was a Captain in the Revolution.
3. John—married Sallie Mason. He was Ensign, Lieutenant, and Captain in the Revolution. He was wounded at Brandywine, and was a pensioner in 1796.
4. Hannah—married John Boley (or Bowley).

The children by his second wife, whose name is not known, were:

5. Peter—married Mrs. Elizabeth Hickman. He was a Private in the Frederick County Militia during the Revolution, and a Sergeant in the Virginia Continental Line. He was wounded, and was pensioned in 1787.
6. Jeremiah.
7. George.
8. Matthew.
9. William.

The children by his third wife, Elizabeth, were:

10. Elizabeth.
11. Sarah.
12. Nancy.
13. Thomas.

FIFTH GENERATION

Samuel Rust

SAMUEL RUST, the eldest of the children of John and Sarah Rust, was born in Westmoreland County. The exact date of his birth is not known, but his next brother, Peter, was born in 1749, so his birth was before 1749. He was married in Westmoreland County to Mary Bailey, and his death occurred in Fauquier County. He probably died about 1790 as there were seven children born after the birth of James Bailey Rust in 1775.

Samuel's wife, Mary Bailey, was born in Westmoreland County and later moved to what is now West Virginia. She died in Kanawha County and is buried in the Rust Cemetery near Poca, West Virginia.

The children of Samuel Rust and his wife Mary (Bailey) Rust were:

Samuel.

John.

Benjamin.

James Bailey—married Polly Purcell in 1806 (of whom more later).

Agnes—married Taylor.

Harriet—married Hensley.

Sarah—married McClanahan.

Hannah.

Elizabeth.

Mary.

Lucinda—married Bailey.

SIXTH GENERATION

James Bailey Rust

JAMES BAILEY RUST, the fourth son of Samuel Rust and Mary (Bailey) Rust, was born in Fauquier County, Virginia, in 1775. He married Polly (Mary) Purcell in 1806 in Richmond County, Virginia. He died in what is now Putnam County, West Virginia, and is buried in the Rust Cemetery about fifteen miles below Charleston on the Kanawha River. His wife, Polly Purcell, was born in 1787. She was the daughter of Tobias Purcell and () (Redmond) Purcell of Richmond, Virginia. She died in 1828, and is buried beside her husband.

The children of James Bailey Rust and Polly (Purcell) Rust were:

Samuel Bailey Rust—married Elizabeth Rust, a cousin.

John—single.

Rebecca Redmond—married Robert W. Wilson.

Benjamin—married Miss Ferguson.

Vincent Redmond—married Annie Hicks. } sisters.
William Tobias—married Betty Hicks. }

Richard Lawson — married Felicia Ann Thomas (of whom more later).

Mary Lawson—single.

George Bailey—married Mary Hicks (another sister of the above).

Henry Thomas } twins—died in infancy.
Thomas Henry }

SEVENTH GENERATION

Richard Lawson Rust

RICHARD LAWSON RUST, son of James Bailey and Polly (Purcell) Rust, was born January 14, 1822, in what is now Putnam County, West Virginia. He married Felicia Ann Thomas, born August 27, 1830, in Kanawha County, West Virginia. They were married on January 16, 1855. She was the daughter of Pleasant Elliot Thomas and Sarah Margaret (Rust) Thomas. Richard Lawson Rust died August 11, 1872, and his wife died August 11, 1904—exactly thirty-two years later. Both are buried in the family plot near St. Albans, West Virginia, on a high hill overlooking the Kanawha River. This is not the same Rust Cemetery spoken of in the preceding pages.

The children of Richard Lawson Rust and Felicia (Thomas) Rust were:

Emma Ann—born November 1, 1855.

James Samuel—born March 23, 1857.

Mary Elizabeth—born November 13, 1859.

Benjamin McCullough—born July 20, 1862; died in infancy.
